The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 4-11, and 14-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sponable et al. As shown in Figure 1, Sponable et al. disclose an assembly comprising a vehicle door (20), having an inner and outer panel, a window pane (24), a window pane drive mechanism (64) adapted to move the window pane (24) from a first position to a second position, a pair of U-shaped rails (94 and 96) disposed on opposing edges of the inner panel of the door (20), a cable drive (60), an electric motor (76) having a gear assembly (76a), and only two rotating pulleys (80 and 84) having a shaft for driving the window pane (24) between the two positions.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 12, 13, 17, and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sponable et al. in view of German patent No. DE 10057352 to Hopper. All of the elements of the instant invention are discussed in detail above except providing a lock assembly interconnected to the drive mechanism. German patent No. DE 10057352 to Hopper discloses a lock assembly attached to the vehicle drive mechanism. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide the assembly of Sponable et al. with a lock assembly interconnected to the drive mechanism as taught by German patent No. DE 10057352 to Hopper since this allows all of the working parts to be attached together and therefore installed as a single unit thereby decreasing the time it takes to install the window working mechanical parts as well as adjustments made on site during installation.

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 4-18 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
